Lougheed Engineering

CIVIL & ENVIRONMENTAL CONSULTANTS

Lougheed Engineering is a three generation, family-owned and operated professional engineering consultancy with over 40 years continuous service. Pioneers in our field, we are one of the first and longest tenured environmental engineering firms in Indiana.

Lougheed Engineering offers comprehensive professional and field services to assess, define and resolve environmental issues related to water, ground and air quality. Blending superb technical skills with innovation and business common sense, we focus on reducing or eliminating environmental risks and liabilities efficiently and economically.

Engineering better Environments

since 1977

We specialize in Phase I Environmental Site Assessments (ESAs), Phase II Site Sampling Soil & Groundwater Analysis, and Phase III Site Remediation Corrective Action. Our services include Brownfields Redevelopment, Underground Storage Tank Closure, SPCC/SWPPP Certifications and Geotechnical Services.

Choosing Lougheed Engineering means you get what our clients have come to know and expect from us. We turn risk into opportunity, resolve issues efficiently and safeguard our client's interests. We look forward to addressing your environmental issues. Email us today at jlougheed@lougheedengineering.com or call us at 317-590-0521.
